

San Francisco Giants Vs. New York Mets

Sunday, August 22nd

In August, the OTS headed to beautiful SBC park in San Francisco for the Annual Traffic Safety Day, hosted by AAA. Each year local and statewide traffic safety organizations, including San Francisco Police Department, SF Fire Department, CHP, Kids N' Cars and the U.S. Coast Guard, come together for this mini-safety festival. Fans of all ages come by to visit the booths, take pictures with the mascots and load up on safety give-aways.

Larry discusses the importance of child passenger safety seats with a new friend and his infant son. And this little guy is on the right track--he's already dressed just like Larry!

OTS Coordinator Mark Bertacchi demonstrates the ever-popular glo-pen before handing it over to an excited fan.

Vince supports safety in numbers with the United States Coast Guard mascot and two junior officers.

The Crash Test Dummies and OTS Coordinator Mark Bertacchi take part in a special on-field ceremony to honor traffic safety organizations and crash victims whose lives were saved because they were buckled up.

Lou Seal, the Giants mascot, has a run-in with the law as an officer pulls him over for not wearing a bicycle helmet. In California, all children under 18 must wear a helmet when riding a bike, scooter, skateboard or inline skates. Take it from Lou--don't leave home without your helmet!
